ABSTRACT

Mother is someone we know since we were in the womb. His voice and caresses were so soft and full of love. A mother will not discriminate between her children and all the circumstances of her children. For a child, the figure of a mother is a protector who will not hesitate to protect her child even though her children have grown up. For a mother, she is still a small child who always seeks protection behind her body.

The mother figure will not think of herself in fighting for her children so that later her children will become useful human beings without showing it to her children. Always prioritizing his children over himself.

Mother is an example that will be seen by her children everyday. Therefore, it is hoped that a mother can make future generations have better morals and actions and be useful for the Nation and State (KBBI, 2016).
